

formation from “social administration” to “social governance” to improve the mechanism of government purchasing social work services so as to promote the sound development of social work agency. Based on the interview materials in Shenzhen, this article focuses on the change of the relationship between social work agency and other social governance subjects in three stages, which are characterized respectively with purchase post service, purchase project service and unified administration by community. It argues that the policy direction in different periods has influenced the autonomy and professionalism of the social work agency, and that administrative intervention has shown a trend from strong to weak and to strong again.

Key Words: Social Work Agency, Government Purchase, Social Governance

The Study on China's Scheme of Healthy Ageing: Definitions, Main Obstacles and Implementation Plans

Lu Jiehua etc.

Abstract: The success or failure of the implementation of the healthy ageing strategy in China is not only related to whether China can deal with the fundamental issue of the contradiction between ageing and socio-economic development, but it is a critical element to promote the construction of Healthy China. Development of healthy ageing strategy must meet the specific conditions in China. At the same time, China's healthy ageing strategy will contribute to promote China's status in terms of international policy making. This paper proposes the definitions of China scheme of healthy ageing. Firstly, healthy equity and life cycle perspectives are core concepts relating to the China's scheme. Secondly, there are three basic characteristics of it, including the model of health protection, the principle of adaptation to local condition, and regarding health insurance as human capital investment. Finally, this paper puts forward the main goal of China's scheme of healthy ageing and its specific targets, and then analyzes the main obstacles and path to success.

Key Words: Healthy Ageing, China's Scheme, Developmental Goals, Implementation Plans

Research Status, Practical Progress and Policy Suggestions Regarding Sustainability Reports of Government Organizations

Xu Donghua

Abstract: With the concept of sustainable development widely spread in the world, it becomes increasingly rich in research and practical results regarding sustainability reports of government organizations, which play an increasingly important role to promote the implementation of sustainable development strategy and the construction of responsible, transparent and performance-oriented governments. This article systematically studies the research status and practical progresses regarding sustainability reports of government organizations of both main developed countries and our country, to explore the problems in research and practice of sustainability reports from our governments, and put forward the corresponding policy suggestions. It is stressed the reform and improvement of the performance reporting system, the introduction of special policies and regulations, and the promotion of the sustainability reports or the scientific development performance reports.

Key Words: Government Organization, Sustainability Report; Sustainable Development Strategy; Government Performance

The Theoretical Logic and Process Logic of Transformation of Government Functions

—A Perspective from State Governance Modernization
Lu Tongzhou

Abstract: Focusing on modernization of State governance, transformation of government functions contains theoretical logic and process logic. On one hand, the promotion of governance ability and transformation of governance pattern is directly related to the comprehensive advancement of State governance modernization, while the transformation of government functions referring to governance capability and governance pattern, and has become the important “grip- per” and key breakthrough. On the other hand, since China's reform and opening up, the process of transformation of government functions follow the historical logic of “national function – government function – government responsibility – responsibility system”. These two kinds of logic have internal connections on reform content and development venation, and unify in the modernization of State governance. Based on the analyses, focusing on changing management mode and promoting management ability, these principles should be obeyed: firstly, adjusting the border of government, market and society in dynamic equilibrium. Secondly, uniting the transformation of government functions and governance tools innovation. Thirdly, breaking the structure mode by way of spontaneity, and reshaping the system of responsibilities.

Key Words: Transformation of Government Functions, Governmental Responsibility System, State Governance, Government Governance

Recovery and Reconstruction of Social Order

Guo Xinghua & Liu Shuo

Abstract: Since modern times, China society met “a dramatic change in three thousand years never have seen”. The traditional Chinese society tends to disintegrate, the